Sir,

I request that the following matter may kindly be published in your esteemed daily:

Institute – Industry Collaboration: Farm Variety Signs MOU

As a part of Agricultural Skill Development, the AEC&RI, Kumulur, Trichy TNAU enters into an agreement with the Internationally leading tractor manufacturer M/s SAME DEUTZ – FAHR INDIA (P) Ltd, Ranipet Chennai to jointly work for further strengthening training facilities for rural youth, farm workers and customers in the operation, repair & overhauling of stationery engines and tractors / farm implements.

Training aggregates with the state of art technology working models, engine assembly for practical purpose to dismantle and assemble, transmission assembly and hydraulic assembly etc will be provided by the firm in addition to the available facilities of Agricultural Engineering College & Research Institute, TNAU, Kumulur.

Dr. K. Ramasamy, Vice Chancellor, TNAU points out that faculty exchange with training at factory premises and sending the skilled personnel from the factory to the college for imparting basic practical skills on operation, repair & maintenance of Agricultural machinery is the basic focus of the programme.

The trained technicians will be created as human resource development on the part of Agricultural mechanization which is the immediate necessity for the Development of Agriculture. The staff and students of Agricultural Engineering College will also benefit with the practical exposure and hands on training through this programme.
